

storage

Cabinets

1 'Soda' sideboard by Draga & Aurel for Gallotti & Radice

Effortlessly modern, the 'Soda' cabinet is one for maximalists with its grey, lacquered wood structure and satin brass hardware. It's a focal piece in its own right, but the amber-tinted glass doors are also great for displaying your treasures. £13,648 (chaplins.co.uk).

2 'Earl' cabinet by Antonio Citterio for Flexform

The whole 'Earl' family of storage units exemplifies low-key luxury, but we'd choose this cabinet as our favourite. Crafted from wood veneer, the curved upper edge hugs the top surface, while the interior glass shelves and drawers will keep your knick-knacks organised. From £11,333 (flexform.it).

3 'Fern Middle' cabinet by Bisley

Designed and made in Britain from hand-folded, vented, sustainable steel, the 'Fern' collection from Bisley is refreshingly no-nonsense yet wonderfully upbeat, thanks to the range of rainbow colours. This lilac-hued number has three internal shelves for keeping things orderly. £299 (bisley.com).

4 'Siena' sideboard by Ercol

Available in a natural finish or the dark wood shown here, the solid oak 'Siena' sideboard boasts curved, slatted cupboards with a practical, push-close mechanism. Inside, six shelves and a drawer offer a wealth of storage space. £1,575 (ercol.com).

Shelving

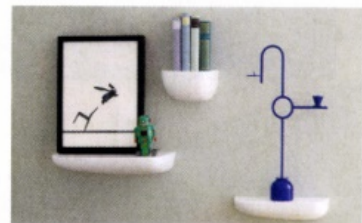

1 'Chimney' shelves by Vipp

Named after the Chimney House (one of Vipp's five hotels, for which they were created) these oak-veneer shelves are mounted on narrow, vertical panels. Available in two sizes, they'll suit any pared-back interior. From £295 (vipp.com).

2 'Dédal' Shelf by Mathieu Matégot for Gubi

Made using Matégot's innovative 'Rigitulle' technique, the 'Dédal' pairs metal tubing with sheet metal that has been perforated, bent and folded into a characterful, geometric shape. Available in a kaleidoscope of colours, it's particularly effective in multiples. Approx £370 (gubi.com).

3 'Corniches' shelves by Ronan & Erwan Bouroullec for Vitra

Don't have much wall space, but still want to make an impact? Consider this chunky number, which has all manner of uses: as a key shelf by the front door, a soap dish in the bathroom or just to display your most prized objects.

From £55 (conranshop.co.uk).