CLAD TIDINGS

Wall&decò has long innovated with wallpaper design through experiments with textures, inlays and carving. It even makes waterproof systems for use in the shower. A recent visit to its Milan showroom revealed an unexpected application for some of its coverings: exterior cladding. It is, in a word, extraordinary. Wall&decò's Out System includes dozens of prints, from scenic to geometric to realistic representations of brick tiles and stone. It might not find widespread usage in the UK, but is worth looking into for newbuilds, modern extensions and garden rooms. Available through West One Bathrooms, from £172 a square metre. ## Curve appeal

'I think a curve in a sofa creates a convivial atmosphere,' says designer Lucy Kurrein, who is one of the industry's rising stars. Having chatted happily with her while sitting on the new 'Isola 3 Seater Sofa' (from £3,299; shown below), which she has designed for Heal's, I can confirm this is true. Lucy applied the same thinking in the creation of her very different design for the Italian company Molinari Living. She explained that the idea behind this iteration of the 'Otto' sofa system (£17,760 as seen; shown bottom) came to her while she was sitting round a campfire with friends. # Cultural exchange

A west London townhouse has been transformed by the interior designer Sarah Delaney into an inviting family home for its American owners with the addition of clever transatlantic touches
