THE QUICK CLICK fan girl

Navigating your way through a heatwave can be a dignified, even stylish, affair with the right accessories, and the beauty of these palm leaf fans is that they'll double as pretty wall hangings once you've cooled down. Handwoven fans, £28 each (toa.st)

THE INVESTMENT PIECE spoilt for choice

We'd be hard-pressed to single out the thing we love most about Gallotti&Radice's Nori coffee table, with its burnished brass base, Calacatta marble top and hand-knurled border in black lacquered solid wood all vying for our attention. Top marks all around. From £1,720 (gallottiradice.it)

FOR THE MOOD BOARD

go figure

Always a moment of joy in the design calendar, Missoni Home has launched its 2020 collection, spoiling us with not one but seven aesthetic 'stories' across textiles and accessories. We're into the Shaded Stripes line for its abstract take on embroidered tapestries, dotted with silhouettes roaming at dawn and dusk on cotton-sateen. Yankton cushion, £359 (missonihome.com/en)

ONE FOR THE KIDS

pure fantasy

Beata Heuman's latest launch is Asteria's Folly – a printed cotton fabric in Day and Night colourways depicting fantastical creatures bounding across starry skies. Undoubtedly one for adults with vivid imaginations, too. After all, why should the kids have all the fun? Asteria's Folly in Day and Night, £120m (beataheuman.com)

FEATURE MAUDIE MANTON

tropical modernism

Bring the sultry and sophisticated side of the tropics into your home by layering natural materials and refined finishes among lush palms and jungle-inspired designs

NEW LEAF, NEW LOOK

A large leafy abstract design is what tropical modernism is all about. Add a slight pop of bright colour or small-scale pattern if you must, but keep the overall palette a mix of colour-coordinated plain fabrics and objects that make the pattern the star.

Nid d'Oiseau wallcovering in Reine du Soir TP300, £207.40 a roll, Élitis at Abbott + Boyd. Fiona Soft chaise by Massimo Castagna, £5,652, Gallotti&Radice.
