

4 everyone's talking about... BUBBLE LIGHTS

Orbs are having a moment as designers embrace spherical forms

Huge, round, gleeful lights can't help but raise a smile. They're so big, so overblown, so wonderfully reminiscent of nostalgic bubble sets from your youth that they can't fail to make you very happy. Porada's Ekerö lamp looks like it's being blown up by hand, while Gallotti&Radice's Bolle Verticale floor lamp - and its cousin in table lamp form (both shown) - make illuminating design seem like child's play.
